

MURDER AT SEA

In early August in 1914 the American cruise liner SS Libertania set sail from New York, bound for Southampton. On 14 August the Captain requested that all crew and passengers meet him in the Grand Ballroom. In solemn tones, Captain Bayard announced that he had just been informed that German military forces had invaded Russia and Belgium, and that the British and French governments had declared war on Germany.

There was stunned silence from the assembled passengers and crew. Then, just as voices were getting louder, the lights went out. There were screams, and a shot. By the time the lights came on again, many people had left the ballroom and the Captain's body was slumped on the floor. He had been shot dead.

But by whom?

Murder at Sea is a murder mystery game set at the start of the First World War for 17 to 33 players, plus one or two hosts. It takes an evening to play, and is ideally suited for a buffet meal or finger food.

Everyone invited to Murder at Sea is given a character with goals and objectives that they must complete by the end of the evening. Everyone has their own goals – and not all goals are compatible. If one person achieves their goals, another may fail. The passengers have various items, such as guns and money. They may also have abilities to help them uncover secrets and achieve their goals.

The passengers may form alliances, blackmail each other, steal items and money and maybe even try to kill one another. Along the way they may solve some of Murder at Sea's mysteries. Who was at the secret Captain's meeting? Who shot Captain Bayard – and why? Join us aboard the Libertania and find out in Murder at Sea.

How many people are needed for Murder at Sea?

Murder at Sea has been written for 17 to 33 guests – plus one or two hosts. The step-by-step guide explains which characters to omit should you have fewer than 17 guests (you do need at least 17, however). Here's how that works:

Number of guests	Male characters	Female characters	Characters that can be played by either sex
17	7	7	3
18	7	7	4
19	7	8	4
20	8	8	4
21	8	9	4
22	8	10	4
23	9	10	4
24	9	11	4
25	9	11	5
26	10	11	5
27	10	12	5
28	10	12	6
29	11	12	6
30	11	12	7
31	12	12	7
32	13	12	7
33	14	12	7

Murder at Sea runs over the course of three or four hours and is particularly suited to a buffet meal. One person is the Host, and acts as organiser and co-ordinator, responsible for making sure everything runs smoothly and that all the guests have the information they need. They also act as referee should an impartial decision be required.

The guests will be passengers and crew aboard the Libertania. They have their own goals and agendas, and how they choose to achieve those goals is entirely up to them. Murder at Sea is an evening of extortion, blackmail, treachery and even murder!

I ran Murder at Sea as a cocktail party last Saturday night for my 33rd birthday. I had a cast of approximately 40 people and it was total chaos (in a good way)!! . . . And total fun, thanks for a great game. Esther-Amy

Overall, I really enjoyed the game [Murder at Sea]. I ran it for my 30th Birthday party and everyone had a great time. I have family in the entertainment business and they were able to provide a large variety of props that helped set the mood and scene for the game. It felt like we were setting up for a movie. Once everyone became familiar with their character details and the rules of the game, everyone really seemed to take on their own character and had a great time. Many people came dressed in character. I had one of the most memorable nights of my life and it is a birthday I will never forget. Thank you for providing such a fun evening. Holly

Murder at Sea has been run on numerous occasions, usually with people with no previous knowledge of murder-mystery parties or events. The co-ordinator will obviously have to put some work in to make it a real success.

And if you have even more guests, Murder at Sea comes with several extra characters written by our customers.
